
Each dot is one distinct build; horizontal lines show observed ranges. Vertical offsets only separate overlapping dots.